

Heather is the most fantastic art teacher! We approached her when my son was in Year 11 when, although not studying any art/creative based GCSE, he had decided he would like to study Graphic Design at A Level and therefore needed to pull together a portfolio of work to demonstrate his artistic ability for interview at sixth form college.

Heather carefully re-introduced my son to the skill of drawing and painting, guiding him through the basics to start and then introducing him to various artistic styles and art mediums, during which time his skill and confidence grew rapidly. Her calm, constructive and encouraging teaching manner certainly inspired that confidence and skill.

As a school art teacher Heather is also aware of the requirements for GCSE/A Level and was able to set my son, and support him through, a design project the results of which so impressed the graphic design tutor at interview that my son was immediately offered an unconditional place.

In short, I would have absolutely no hesitation in recommending Heather as a private art tutor.
